

MAB COMMUNITY SERVICES
Creating opportunities for people with disabilities since 1903.

MAB Community Services
Annual Report 2008

Board of Trustees Message

"... the great Commonwealth of Massachusetts has but two doors open for her four thousand adult blind—the Insane Asylum and the Poor House."

Founding Member Mrs. Mahalie R. Hodder on the origins of the Massachusetts Association for the Blind, 1903

At the turn of the twentieth century some philanthropic citizens of Boston founded an organization to promote the education and training of blind individuals. Every Trustee of the organization now known as MAB Community Services follows in the footsteps of abolitionist Julia Ward Howe, advocate Helen Keller, women's rights campaigner Anne Whitney and other well known figures who have served before us. We feel certain they would be astounded by the transformation that has taken place in the life chances of individuals with disabilities born in the Commonwealth today. We take seriously our responsibility to continue this progress.

CEO's Message

Dear Donors, Partners and Volunteers,

Here's what you accomplished through your support of MAB Community Services in 2008:

- The Ivy Street School expanded to a total of 30 students by opening a new residence that enables students to experience life in the community while still attending school.
- A new residential program for young adults with disabilities opened in Brookline, a collaboration between the Ivy Street School and the Developmental Disability program.
- With seed funding from The Boston Foundation and the Carl and Ruth Shapiro Foundation, hired additional Vocational Counselors and developed vocational partnerships with Boston University, the Odyssey Cruise Line, and Trader Joe's, among others.
- Seven adults with developmental disabilities, all elderly, moved from second and third floor housing to fully accessible first floor apartments.
- Eliminated duplication of services by merging MAB's braille and recording services into the Perkins Braille and Talking Book Library
- MAB's vision rehabilitation specialists helped 719 elders adapt to vision loss and learn new strategies for daily living. 216 patients attended MAB's low vision clinics and 700 met in low vision support groups across the state.
- Moved MAB's Western Massachusetts office into the Holyoke Health Center. Received three-year pilot funding from the Jessie B. Cox Charitable Trust to integrate vision rehabilitation services into the Health Center's diabetes self-management program.
- Hosted the "Solving the Vision Loss Crisis" panel discussion, featuring experts in elder policy, rehabilitation, technology and research.

Perhaps you've noted a trend in these accomplishments. Our exceptional staff work with community partners to leverage limited resources and transform lives. It takes time, commitment, skill and vision, plus the generosity of a community of donors and volunteers. Thank you all.

Sincerely,

Barbara Salisbury

Programs and Services

- The Ivy Street School, a private residential and day educational program for 30 adolescents who have brain injuries or other neurological difficulties.
- MAB’s Developmental Disability services include staffed group homes for 50 adults in Greater Boston communities and a new “turning 22” program for 5 young adults.
- The Visually Impaired Elders Program provides low vision rehabilitation, case management, and support groups to help elders adapt to vision loss and learn strategies for managing healthcare and daily activities. MAB’s Community Volunteer Program matches volunteers with disabled individuals who need help with clerical tasks or medical transportation.
- Vocational Education Program: MAB offers work-readiness training, supported employment, and community-based employment opportunities to more than 50 individuals and students.

MAB Community Services has been creating opportunities for people with disabilities since 1903. Our experience allows us to forge strong community partnerships with agencies across Massachusetts, so we can meet the pressing need for high quality programs and services and transform the lives of people with disabilities.
